DELAY FURTHER L. A. AQUEDUCT FEUD ARRESTS

Authorities Are Uncertain Whether to Follow Up New Disclosures

(By United Press)

INDEPENDENCE, Calif., Feb. 24—Further arrests in the Los Angeles aqueduct dynamite feud were postponed today as the result of a new trend in the investigation.

With evidence against a group of alleged conspirators in Los Angeles, authorities are uncertain whether to proceed against the asserted ring in Owens valley or follow up by the new disclosures.

"There will be no arrests today," District Attorney Jess Hession declared, "and no more complaints will be issued until I have gone a little further into the investigation."

L. A. Men Named

Hession admitted that investigators have placed in his hands information linking half a dozen Los Angeles men with the dynamitings, which began in May, 1924, and continued until last July.

The district attorney expressed little concern over reports that an attempt has been made to broadcast a "false report" of the investigation of two Owens valley radio stations last night.

"Let them talk," Hession said, when informed that the broadcast had criticized the activities of the authorities in rounding up the dynamiters and declared Inyo county was "overrun with spies and under-cover men."

Wattersons Implicated?

The mass of information turned over to Hession allegedly implicates W. W. and Mark O. Watterson, former Owens valley bankers, who were convicted of embezzlement in connection with the collapse of their five banks, with the dynamiting.

"They are serving time now," Hession said. "I don't even know that they will be called as witnesses in the prosecution of these

Hungary Will Auction Arms Despite League

Refuses to Delay Sale of Machine Guns Seized At St. Gotthard

(By United Press)

BUDAPEST, Feb. 24.—Hungary today made plans to auction off five carloads of machine guns, which make up the famous St. Gotthard seizure, despite the request of the League of Nations that the auction be postponed.

In a note to Sir Eric Drummond, secretariat of the league, Premier Brethlen said that Hungary would be unable to accede to the league's request. He said the machine guns were on the ground and that all details had been arranged.

Hungary previously had announced the sale would be held unless the owner claimed the machine guns. It was said at that time that the League of Nations investigating rights did not apply in this case.

The shipment of machine guns was seized a few months ago at St. Gotthard. The guns were said to have been shipped from Italy.

League Advises Hungary To Suspend Arms Sale

GENEVA, Feb. 24.—The League of Nations has advised Hungary to suspend the proposed sale of five carloads of seized guns, scheduled for today.

Sir Eric Drummond, secretariat of the league, telegraphed the Hungarian government the request for a postponement of the auction. The league requested time to act upon appeals of the little entente regarding the proposed auction.

SECRETARY AVOIDS PITFALL ARRANGED BY OPPONENTS IN URGING COOLIDGE SCHEME

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover presented to the senate interstate commerce committee today a compromise flood control financing scheme favored by President Coolidge.

Thus he avoided the embarrassing position in which his political opponents had hoped to place him—either supporting or opposing the president's old plan of having states pay 20 per cent of control costs.

The plan suggested by the president calls for a federal commission to determine within a year how much the various flood ridden states can pay and when. Meantime, Hoover said, congress should authorize construction of control works, delay in which would be a "calamity."

Questioned 50 Minutes

The secretary was questioned 50 minutes by committee members, including Senators Willis and Hawes, who had insisted on his testifying. Chairman Jones several times put a stop to certain lines of questioning and the whole hearing passed without open display of animosities.

At the outset he had declined to discuss engineering features of the various flood control plans and had painted for the committee a distressing picture of the human want caused by the floods with its consequent economic reaction on the whole nation.

The compromise plan was regarded as a sort of checkmate to political opponents who had foreseen that the secretary, as Republican presidential possibility, might trip on the question of state contributions for flood control.

Foresaw Loss of Votes

They had foreseen he might antagonize the administration by favoring complete federal payment of costs or alienate possible southern votes by favoring partial state contributions.

Hoover's compromise plan was offered in answer to question of Senator Hawes, Democrat, Missouri, as to whether he favored the Jadwin plan of requiring states to pay 20 per cent of control costs.

UNLIMITED JAIL TERM FACED BY R. W. STEWART

Separate Sentence Possible If Convicted of Senate Contempt

BY HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Col. Robert W. Stewart, Standard Oil chief, has put off the senate's questions about the "Continental deal" by perhaps as much as two years by an appeal, but at the same time has opened the senate's way to imprison him unlimitedly if his appeal fails, and he persists in refusing to testify.

Indefinite Term Possible

Senate legal authorities explained today that if and when his appeals from the adverse habeas corpus decision of yesterday fail, the oil king can be imprisoned indefinitely as a senate coercive measure, providing he continues to defy questioners.

This is in addition to the punitive action now pending before the grand jury for contempt of the senate, for which, if convicted, Stewart can be given a prison term. Harry F. Sinclair now is free on bond from two such sentences, one for three months for senate contempt and one for six months from contempt of court in jury shadowing.

No "Double Jeopardy"

Special Oil Prosecutor Owen J. Roberts and other legal authorities have advised senate leaders that no "double jeopardy" of Stewart's liberty is involved in such actions, although both arose from his refusal to tell the senate Teapot Dome committee what he knew about the disposal of the Continuental Trading company's $3,080,000 in Liberty bond profits.

The grand jury action, now expected to result in a senate contempt indictment next Monday, is "punitive," while the senate action seeking to obtain answers

Three Beach Men File For Council Race

Johnson, Ellsworth, Hilmer Will Seek Places on Newport Board

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 24.—Nomination petitions, naming Mark Johnson, Paul B. Ellsworth and Dr. Herman Hilmer for city councilmen, were filed with City Clerk Alfred Smith here today. The three men named, all prominent in the business and social life of Newport Beach, are reported to be anti-administration candidates. The three nominating papers were the first to be filed.

A hot race is being predicted here for April 9. Six nominating petitions have been taken out of the city clerk's office, it was reported today. One of the papers probably will nominate L. S. Wilkinson, present councilman.

The three candidates who filed papers today are representative citizens from three different sections of Newport Beach, it was pointed out by those backing the ticket.

Johnson is a prominent boat builder, owner of the Johnson boat works in Newport Beach.

Ellsworth is a prominent building contractor of the harbor district and resides in Balboa.

Dr. Herman Hilmer formerly was professor at the University of California. He is a resident of Balboa Island and will represent that section. The Women's Civic league, of Newport Beach, is reported to be backing the three candidates.

Fred Young, outgoing member of the city council, will not be a candidate for re-election, he revealed today. Young is the only one of the three outgoing councilmen who has stated definitely that he will not run. Dr. Conrad Richter, pres-

'BIG HUTCH' HUNTED AS LEADER OF RING THAT SWINDLED BRITON OUT OF $40,000

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 24.—Edward G. Hutchings, alias R. A. Golden, nationally known confidence man, was believed by police here today to have been the head of a gang that swindled M. Thomas Needham, London chain drug store owner, out of $40,000.

Police said they had information that "Big Hutch" sailed for Honolulu from Seattle aboard the steamer Lurline during the latter part of last November.

It was believed here that "Big Hutch" and his male assistants in the swindle may have hired a sampan and gone on a fishing trip. Police were watching all shore points and were ordered to search all sampans.

Two women arrested as alleged members of the gang still were in custody today. They were Mrs. R. A. Golden, believed to be the wife of "Big Hutch," and her companion, Miss Betty Brown.

Miss Ellen Wanke, third woman suspect arrested, was released in custody of her attorney. Miss Wanke was believed to have come from Denver. A maid at her home informed police her mistress regularly received Denver newspapers.

It was the maid also who told of the fishing expedition.

Needham was the victim of an old "bunco game."

He was induced to obtain $40,000 in currency to be used as a "sure bet" on the horses. He produced the money, was called from his room and, when he returned, the money was gone—so was his friend "Golden," or Grainville, another alias said to have been used by "Big Hutch."

Sylvia Pankhurst Believes Women All Over World Will Vote by 1934

By C. P. WILLIAMSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Women will have the vote throughout virtually the entire world by 1934, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, veteran militant suffragist, predicted in an interview with the United Press today.

Women even of semi-civilized countries by that time would have won their fight for equality, Miss Pankhurst said.

"Even countries that 20 years ago laughed at the thought of women in business or politics—in fact at the thought of women anywhere but in the home—now are accepting women as part of the full life of the country," Miss Pankhurst said.

Anti-Climax In Britain

"So far as the women of England are concerned at the present time, the most important thing is the securing of the vote for women at 21, thereby placing them on a basis of equality with men. Naturally, to us who fought before the war and won the success of partial equality, this new victory will be somewhat of an anti-climax. I say 'victory,' for it is inevitable that it will come, especially as the government itself is determined to pass the equality bill this year.

"Women throughout the world must realize, however, that their work is by no means done when they have secured equality. During the fight for equality, wom-

BILL ADDING TO ORIGINAL FUND SIGNED

Larger Appropriation Will Hasten Date of Program Here, Stephenson Thinks

LIST AVAILABLE SITES

Department Has Been Informed of Best Location, Postmaster Says

ERECTION of a federal building in Santa Ana became assured with the signing, today, by President Coolidge, of the bill authorizing an additional $100,000,000 for post office and federal buildings throughout the United States, according to T. E. Stephenson, Santa Ana postmaster.

The bill signed today, authorizing the appropriation, provides that sum in addition to $165,000,000 voted at the last session of congress, the latter providing $100,000,000 for federal buildings in the United States; $50,000,000 for federal structures in the District of Columbia and an unexpended balance of $15,000,000 to be distributed at the discretion of the post-office and treasury.

The additional appropriation will hasten the date of the federal program in Sant Ana, in the opinion of Stephenson. Stephenson, said, however, that it probably would be two or three years before anything is done here, despite the recent declaration of Collector of Internal Revenue Welch, of Los Angeles, that the activity would be under way within a year.

Treasury Picks Site

The postmaster today made it clear that he would have nothing whatever to say in the selection of a location for the federal structure and he pointed out that this point is left to determination of men representing the treasury department.

Stephenson revealed that at the request of the post-office department he compiled, about a year ago, a list of 20 sites available within a radius of seven or eight blocks of the present post-office.

Location and price will be the only factors involved in determining selection of a site, the postmaster said, in intimating that "political pull" will have no weight.

In a joint survey of the minimum needs of the country for public buildings, made by direction of the

SCHOOL BLAST IS DESCRIBED BY STUDENTS

(By United Press)

OTTAWA, Ill., Feb. 24.—Little Grace Johnson, who saw her teacher, Iola Bradford, disfigured by the explosion of a dynamite bomb in Pleasant Valley school last December, was to testify for the state today in the bombing trial of Hiram Reed.

The Johnson Girl, 9 was to be followed on the stand by several other pupils of Miss Bradford, who were outside the building when the bomb, which had been placed in the schoolroom stove, exploded as the teacher kindled a fire.

The state charged Reed, 24, son of a wealthy farmer, attempted to kill Miss Bradford to avoid responsibility for their unborn child.

Two boys, pupils of Miss Bradford, testified yesterday in the opening of the state's case.

Robert Lee, 13, testified he had arrived at school early on the morning of December 1 and was playing ball with Harold Thorpe, 13 when the explosion occurred.

"I was standing beside one window when it broke," the boy said. "The glasses of other windows started falling. I ran into the school and saw Miss Bradford, her face and clothes covered with blood."

Robert said he ran down the road to get his sister, Mrs. Howard Clegg, and as they returned they met Miss Bradford.

"She was kind of half walking and half crawling along the road," the boy testified.

The Thorpe boy corroborated his chum's testimony.

secretary of the treasury and the postmaster general, a committee included Santa Ana in the group of cities in which a federal building should be erected. An apportionment of $250,000 has been tentatively made.

Listed With Long Beach

Santa Ana is listed in the group of cities having postal receipts ranging from $100,000 to $200,000 annually. Long Beach is one of four cities in the union coming within the receipts range of $400,000 classed as in need of a federal building. Ten cities are grouped in the class having receipts from $200,000 to $400,000.

Stephenson expressed the opinion that in the program of building the treasury and post-office departments will give first consideration to cities which have federal buildings that need additions to accommodate government business.

It is believed plans for the building here will include office rooms for U. S. Commissioner Maurice Enderle, Referee in Bankruptcy Ben Tarver and Deputy Internal Revenue Commissioner A. B. Pilch.

Teapot Probers To Call Officials Of Denver Firm

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Officials of the Western Oil Fields corporation, of Denver, will be called to develop a new phase of the senate oil inquiry, Chairman Nye, of the Teapot Dome committee, announced today.

The committee has discovered, Nye said, that the Denver company had a contract with the mysterious Continental Oil company for sale of crude petroleum. The committee has no evidence that the company was involved in the strange bond deal of 1921, but desires to ascertain facts about the contract, Nye said.

$3,080,000 In Profits

Nye pointed out that the Continental company made $3,080,000 of known profits, which were converted into Liberty bonds. Under its contract with the Humphreys-Mexia company it received only 8,000,000 barrels of oil, upon which it made 25 cents profit, or $2,000,000.

The committee suspects, Nye said, that the remaining $1,080,000 profit might have been derived by the Continental from purchase of oil through the Western Oil Fields corporation.

Early Arrest Sought

Nye also announced that if the senate contempt case of Col. Robert Stewart, of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, was not settled before congress adjourned in June, he would propose a resolution allowing arrest of Stewart during the summer recess should the case be decided in favor of the senate.

This step was contemplated, Nye said, to avoid delay in Stewart's case until the December congressional session.

Compromise Flood Plan Proposed By Secretary Hoover

Hawes told Hoover the states already had paid out more than $400,000,000 and suggested it was unreasonable to expect them to pay more now.

There had been much speculation as to whether Hoover and Senator Frank B. Willis, the favorite son candidate, would declare their candidacies today, as required by the state preferential law.

Both candidates have held off, apparently to see what the other would do. Hoover's entry would automatically insure filing of the Willis declaration, it was believed.

ARCHBISHOP TESTIFIES FOR STATE IN GOODWIN'S TRIAL FOR MURDER THIS MORNING

A picture of an American Catholic priest, in his clerical robes, shaking dice with a girl and two companions in the Knickerbocker hotel, San Diego, with a rapid fire cross-examination and clash of wits between the girl, Miss Ruth Roberts, who drew the picture on the witness stand, and Buel Wood, the priest's attorney, furnished animation yesterday in the trial of the Rev. Phillip A. Goodwin.

The case was resumed today. Goodwin is in court for a second hearing on a charge of murdering J. J. Patterson, Los Angeles broker in 1926.

Archbishop Gregory Lines, of Los Angeles, who is said to have ordained the defendant, took the stand today for the prosecution and told the jury that he knew Albert Dewey Gaines, former friend of Goodwin and also convicted of the murder. He had known him as A. Dewey he said.

Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodget, who is prosecuting Goodwin with Z. B. West jr., asked Lines if he recognized Gaines in the room. The witness peered for a moment at the hundreds of faces before him. Then a smile lit up his face.

"The one I knew as A. Dewey sits behind you," he replied.

Glances Meet

A hint of a smile was on Gaines' face as he met the glance of the archbishop. Once more, a few moments later, their eyes met again and again the smile came to the lips of Lines, and was reflected on Gaines' face. What, if anything passed between the two, was not revealed by the testimony of the Archbishop.

Archbishop Lines, while on the stand, identified several letters in Goodwin's handwriting, presented by the prosecution. One signed by "The Admiral." It was written to "Dear Navy."

Gaines again refused to testify today and left the court room with an unlighted cigar in his hand.

Wood attempted yesterday to riddle the testimony of Ruth Roberts regarding the dice game and identification of Patterson. Of all the men who shook dice that day in March, 1926, how could she remember the one in question? Could she describe any of the many others who might have been there? How did she know this man had fair hair? Did he take off his hat? What color were his eyes?

Witness Confused

The attorney's staccato queries apparently confused the witness. Who, he asked, first called the incident to her attention? Was her memory aided, perhaps, by someone in the prosecution at Goodwin's former trial?

Apparently he was pleased with the answers given to his questions, for at the conclusion, he bowed to the witness, and bellowed—

"That's all Miss Roberts."

The Julian Petroleum stock which Goodwin and Gaines are alleged to have taken from Patterson's body and which Goodwin is supposed to have sold, flitted in and out of the testimony today and yesterday. Whenever it was referred to, Wood interposed objections, declaring that the corpus delicti had not been established and that the jury had been shown no relation between Goodwin's supposed part in the crime and the stock.

The introduction of the stock and of checks on the Patterson account, which the prosecution contends were forged, tended to create a prejudice in the jury's mind, he said, although it had not been proved that the priest forged the signatures.

Stock Admitted

The stock certificates were admitted as evidence after F. H. Partridge, of the Citizens Trust and Savings bank, of Los Angeles, had identified them as the ones which he claimed Goodwin had brought to him to be sold. He related their sale through Harry Jones, a broker, and the opening by Goodwin of an account at the bank with the money secured.

A man named Cramer figured in the story of the stock deal. In cross-examination by O. A. Jacobs, Partridge said that the reasons given by Goodwin for the sale were to secure money for producing a musical comedy and also to get money to provide bail for Cramer, who was alleged to have been arrested on a traffic violation charge. The defense at the last trial brought forth the contention that Goodwin had been acting for Gaines in disposing of the stock.

After the Partridge testimony, Wood made a motion to strike all evidence so far produced with the exception of that which identified the personal belongings found on the Patterson body. The motion was denied.

M. Kessler, 1525 Crown Hill avenue, Los Angeles, where Patterson lived, told of having been shown Julian stock certificates by the dead man. He said the deceased had carried them in his inside coat pocket. He did not positively identify the certificates as the same ones Patterson had showed him.

Banker On Stand

D. Crosby, chief teller of a branch of the Los Angeles First National Trust and Savings bank, told of the opening of an account by Sam Reeder March 10, 1926. Goodwin is said to have used the name of Reeder at times.

The trip to San Diego, said to have been made by Goodwin, Patterson and Gaines, March 13, 1926, was related through several witnesses, first of whom was E. E. Dunn, who, at that time, operated an auto livery in Los Angeles. Goodwin rented an open car from him, he said. He and another man drove away. He could not identify the second person.

Walter W. Meyer, state traffic officer, took the stand and told the jury he had stopped a car in which Goodwin and two others were riding, just north of San Juan Capistrano, on that date. An arrest slip was signed by the driver, whom he was not able to recall, he said. Goodwin, according to his story, had got out of the car, and told him he was going to San Diego on a good will mission.

B. M. Kelly, of the Manhattan hotel, in San Diego, testified that he had seen Gaines and two others, —officers,—at his hostelry. Miss Roberts supplied further evidence along this line.

Other witnesses who appeared yesterday were C. G. Rockett who owned the boarding house at which Patterson is said to have stayed, his mother, Mrs. Margaret Rockett, R. B. Patterson, brother of the deceased, C. A. Burns, Los Angeles, and Ben Rugeti, Los Angeles.

CROOKSHANK IS ELECTED HEAD S. A. SYMPHONY

At a recent meeting of members of the Santa Ana Philharmonic Society, C. S. Crookshank was elected president and Walter Spicer was appointed secretary, it was announced today.

Plans were discussed for appointment of the necessary committees and for arranging for programs in the series of concerts now being presented by the society.

The second concert of the series, presented Friday night, was presented to a packed house, and it is anticipated other programs in the series will be as well attended.

Especially effective was the presentation of Mozart's complete symphony in G minor and the favorite "prologue" from "I Pugliacci" (Leoncauello), in which Robert Bradford, baritone soloist, received an ovation. Other symphonic numbers were thoroughly enjoyed.

"Rapidly establishing its claim to a place of distinction among local musical organizations, the influence of the Santa Ana Philharmonic Society has been one of marked benefit in raising musical standards of this community by increasing the popular demand for music of superior symphonic values," a prominent musician said today.

ORANGE COUNTY SCHOOLS WILL GET $186,000

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 24.—Elementary schools of Orange county will receive $84,058.37 and high schools of the same county will receive $102,511.98 as their share of the final apportionment of California's state school funds for the fiscal year ending June 30.

This apportionment, representing one of the biggest slices of the state educational fund ever handed to the county, was made here this week by William John Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction, who notified all county superintendents, auditors and school boards to credit the sum to their books at once.

With the addition of a similar apportionment made last September, the total money received by Orange county for the year is brought to $424,237.37 for its elementary schools, and $128,591.98 for its high schools.

"We base this division of funds upon a strictly pro rata basis of $5.61 per unit of average daily attendance in elementary schools," said Cooper. "Orange county showed a total average daily attendance of 14,773 in her grammar schools, according to our records.

"High school apportionments are made in the same way, but $24.03 is the amount allowed for each unit of average daily attendance in all classes.

"Apportionments prescribed by law to be made on a basis of $550 for each year of the four-year high school course and the 'bonus' apportionments for special day and evening classes, evening schools and compulsory part-time classes were included in last September's apportionment."

City Skyscraper Built On Kindness

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Founded on a spirit of kindness to animals, a new golden tipped tower pokes its nose above the high buildings on Chicago's skyline.

An invention which grew out of the humane efforts of Alonzo C. Mather to provide a better means for transporting animals over railroads resulted in a fortune which made possible the new structure on Wacker drive at the mouth of the Chicago river.

As a young man, Mather was impressed with the suffering endured by horses and cattle in being shipped long distances. He invented and put on the market a car which permitted more comfortable transportation, receiving commendation and an American Humane society gold medal.

The Mather tower rises 562 feet. A twin building to it will be erected on the other side of the street.

ONE BABY BORN IN STATE EACH SIX MINUTES

By J. F. McLAUGHLIN

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 24.—The Drama of Life in California is a continuous performance with no intermissions. Doc Stork delivers the prologue, Dan Cupid and Hymen strut their hour upon the stage, and the Grim Reaper rings down the curtain.

And these are the achievements, reduced to the ticks of the clock:

One baby is born every six minutes.

One couple is married every 10 minutes.

One person dies every 9 minutes.

These figures are gleaned from reports of L. S. Ross, chief of the state bureau of vital statistics, who, with a few mysterious jabs at his adding machine and rapid calculator, can tell you anything from the time you will be married or divorced, to the illness of which your Aunt Abigail died back in '88.

Ross, a serious-minded mathematician with a sense of humor, denies the popular belief that 2 o'clock in the morning is the hour at which most babies are born.

"At least, my records don't show it," says Ross. "However, personal experience indicates that, once born, babies select this hour for crying. Perhaps most floor-walking begins about this time in the morning."

Whether "it's the climate" or not, Ross doesn't know. But it is true, he insists, that longevity is increasing in California.

"Death is being fought back from the younger lives, and the actual span of life is being lengthened," he declares. "Nearly 36 per cent of all persons dying in California at the present time are more than 65 years old."

Despite the inroads made by the "gin marriage law," enacted by the 1927 legislature, Ross expects the marriage rate to adjust itself in a couple of years, whether the law is repealed by the 1929 legislature or not.

Pigeon Owners Thank Officers

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 24.—A letter of thanks for aid rendered a carrier pigeon by local police was received here today from G. B. Wilshire and George Crissey, of Sawtelle.

A few weeks ago a weary pigeon landed on a fishing boat owned by Alfred Park, six miles out at sea. Park brought the bird to the police station, where it was given food and water.

Later, police attached a note to the leg of the bird and released it. The bird reached its destination in Sawtelle a few hours later, according to the letter. It had been released at Palm Springs and had been gone a week when it finally retuned, the owners reported.

ASSOCIATION CHAMBER HOLDS MEETING AT BREA; OFFICIALS OF DEVELOPMENT BODY HERE

Presentation of a rather complete picture of the operation of the California Development association, introduction of a group of prize fighters, trainers and managers, and production by the Santa Ana Community players of a skit interpreting a scene involving a trio of chamber of commerce men at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Brea last night offered diversity from the usual program of the county boost body.

Members of the staff of the state association were available to the association by reason of their presence in the south to attend a meeting of the body at San Diego tomorrow, and the heads of different departments recited briefly what each department is doing in the line of co-ordinating groups of the state in the individual activity in which each is functioning.

Presentation of the features of activity of the organization was effective in changing the opinion of many delegates present as to the purpose of the association. It was pointed out by Orange county men that the impression prevailed in many quarters that the California Development association was a boost organization for the northern part of the state. The story of the association, as told in a series of addresses, revealed very clearly that it is a state-wide institution and that its interest is not centered in any one part of the state.

Body Endorsed

Following the addresses, the chambers voted an endorsement of the association, without solicitation by the representatives. The action was taken after the group had departed from the meeting for Los Angeles to catch a late night train to San Diego.

As explained by Norman Sloan, general manager, the association has five regional divisions in the state, with each division having a council to act on problems local to the region and a state board of directors to whom are referred problems that are state-wide in character.

Dr. T. C. Young, of Glendale, is a director from this region, and he discussed some phases of the work.

Other members of the staff making brief remarks were Frank Du Prey, publicity; Bob Wilson, agriculture; Charles Knight, industrial; Charles Dinwiddie, conservation; Mrs. Mary Holt, Woman's department, a department which is devoting itself largely to promotion of safety on the highways and promulgation of a uniform motor law for cities, and Leonard Gary, who is manager for the association in Southern California.

Skit Put On

"Red, White and Blue" was the title of the skit put on by W. S. Kellogg, Harry Bracket and Robern Horn, of the Santa Ana Community Players, and the play went over big for it depicted a frequent scene in a community supporting a chamber of commerce with an enthusiastic chamber man gloating over success of a big project and a knocker who tries to tear down what community builders accomplish.

Sam Oxrod, of the Bastenchury ranch, credited with responsibility for locating the training camp of Paulino Uzcudun, Basque fighter, at Brea, introduced Uzcudun; Senor Arthus, his trainer and manager; Hilario Martinez, welterweight champion of England, and J. G. Batiste, the latter's manager.

Reporting for the committee named at the last meeting of chambers to develop plans for a county-wide survey of school conditions, Ralph McFadden said that the board of supervisors virtually had promised $1000 toward the expense of such a survey, and that R. P. Mitchel, superintendent of county schools, had expressed the belief that the state superintendent of public instruction would take charge and make the investigation. State superintendent Cooper, however, is out of the state for a short time, and Mitchell has not been in position to place the proposition before him. McFadden also said that Mitchell had told him that he believed he had records in his office from which the wanted data could be procured.

A suggestion that terms of office of city officials be reduced from four to two years was made at the Huntington Beach meeting of the chambers last month, and was referred to the advisory committee. W. J. Carmichael, of Fullerton, a member of the committee, said he and his associates were not ready to make a recommendation, and announced that consideration probably would be given to the suggestion at a meeting of the city council association to be held at La Habra in a few days.

The address of welcome was given by Ted Craig, of Brea, and response was by V. D. Johnson, of Orange.

Dinner was prepared and served by the auxiliary of the Brea American Legion.

Following a custom started in the early life of the county body, the annual meeting will be held in Santa Ana next month.

Next Wednesday night the Masonic lodge will hold a dance at the local hall for Masons and their friends. The affair is in charge of Fred T. Grable, worshipful master. C. M. Honold, E. B. Wilson and R. A. Maddox are on the committee assisting Grable.

OLD MANNER OF ADOPTION OF BABIES IN CALIFORNIA NOW OBSOLETE; NEW LAW IN FORCE

Startling exposures of "baby farms" and similar organizations trafficking in children spurred the state into action. Drastic laws were framed and enacted by the 1927 legislature. Ironclad precaution and protection was thrown about the orphan or homeless child.

And, although the new adoption code is fearfully and wonderfully made, it is putting more babies in better homes than ever before, according to Miss Mabel Weed of San Francisco, assistant director of the department of social welfare, in charge of adoptions.

In the old "cash and carry" days, all you had to do to get a baby was to have the parent sign a relinquishment, and walk right off with the child in your arms. However, this didn't mean the baby was yours—not until the legal proceedings were completed.

Nowadays, however, it is as hard to adopt a baby as to break into a bank. But the babies are profiting by the new laws, and they are the ones to be considered.

Here are a few of the new rules:

A legitimate child cannot be adopted without the consent of its parents, if livnig, nor an illegitiparents, if living, nor an illegitiits mother, if living, except in certain cases of insanity, crime, immorality, etc.

A father or mother must relinquish the child by written statement before two witnesses, acknowledged by the California Children's Home Society or Native Sons or Daughters' committee on homeless children, and filed with the state department of social welfare.

"Thus, every adopted child must come to this department," says Miss Weed. "After we study the application we must submit a report to the superior court before the adoption is complete.

"This may seem like an expensive process, but it is real economy in the long run. It is investment in human life. Adoptions are the most delicate phase of social work, and the success of the new laws is a joy to every person charged with administering them."

BREA

BREA, Feb. 24—Six little girl dancers of Brea are to appear tonight in dancing acts at a Fullerton theater, taking a part in the spring dancing recital of Miss Clare Coutant. The girls are Gladys, Cordius and Miriam Jackson, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Jackson; Helen Hay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hay; Gwendolyn Shipley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. "Tobey" Shipley, and Betty Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sparks.

The Rev. and Mrs. Remfry Hunt have just returned from a delightful three-day visit at Catalina island.

Mrs. A. D. Clayton, of Stewart Station, is entertaining her mother, Mrs. E. L. Yarbrough, of Santa Paula, who has arrived for a 10-day visit.

Mrs. W. A. Krug, of Encinitas, who arrived last week to visit her mother, Mrs. George Marshall, has been critically ill at the Marshall home for the past several days but is slightly improved now.

Mrs. Scott Tremaine, her little daughter, Barbara, and her brother, Bert Phegley, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Brea at the home of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Jarvis, returning to their home at Victorville Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hay are entertaining tomorrow evening at their home here in honor of Mrs. Hay's mother, Mrs. C. A. Allen, of Wilmington, whose birthday anniversary is being celebrated. Mrs. Allen has been visiting in the Hay home for several days.

Among Brea people who are on the list of those ill are Mrs. I. W. Barnett, Mrs. Harry Yarbrough, E. E. Anderson and Mrs. Tommy McGraw, the latter being seriously ill for many days.

Frank Brown, one of the partners of the Percolator cafe here, and an oil man, has gone to Ventura, where he is employed as a driller for a noil company near there. He expects to be gone for several months.

CAMPING SITES IN CALIFORNIA ARE INSPECTED

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 24.—"In the spring a young man's fancy turns to the woods and camps—

With the advent of spring in California and spring fever in Californians, last year's fishing rods, reels and lines are being inspected and tested, camping gear is being brought down from musty attics and vague hints are being directed at the boss about vacations.

Reminiscent memories of a quiet nook on the banks of the creek where that big trout was caught * * * the smell of a wood fire * * * the hospitality and comradeship of the camp * * *

The city dweller is looking forward to a vacation, but the fish and game commissioners, state forest rangers and inspectors of the state division of sanitation, department of public health, are girding their loins preparatory to a season of hard but honest toil.

The summer season of 1928 will see the most careful inspection of sanitary conditions of camps in the history of California, says Edward T. Ross, chief of the division of sanitation, department of public health.

With the co-operation of camp owners, many improvements will be made this year. Enormous improvements have already been made and it is estimated that approximately $853,000 has been expended in the last two years in the improvement of automobile camp grounds throughout the state, Ross says.

The division always places a great deal of confidence in the campers themselves, Ross says, particularly when they are roaming the woods and not staying at regulated auto camps.

"There are thousands of camping places located in the mountains and along streams and highways in every part of the state. It is impossible to enforce sanitary regulations at such places as there is no one who can be held responsible.

"During the last two years over 2732 of these camping places were inspected and many hundreds of notices posted, warning campers to clean up the camp and bury all refuse before leaving.

Hearing a clinking sound while passing a scarecrow whose overcoat was flapping in the wind, a farmer near Trier, Germany, investigated and discovered coins to the value of about $250.

SANTA ANA 'BEES' TIE FOR LEAGUE TITLE

BROTHER LLOYD ON TRIAL

Young Lloyd Waner faces the difficult task this summer of convincing the doubtful Thomases that his sensational work as a Pittsburgh Pirate last year was more than a mere flash in the pan.

That is to say, the boys around the stove in the back room have been talking about young Waner this winter and quite a number of them feel that the frail lad from Oklahoma played a bit over his head last summer and may not do as well this summer.

It may be remembered that Brother Lloyd was the outstanding rookie to break in the National league last year, and perhaps one of the best first-year men who ever hit the majors.

He was so good, in fact, that he managed to keep Hazen Cuyler, a great outfielder, on the bench most of the season.

Among other things that the younger member of the famous Waner act did was the compilation of a .355 batting average for the season that happened to be topped by only two marks, one established by Brother Paul and which led the league, and the one of Rogers Hornsby.

Brother Lloyd had a great year. His work was one of the real factors in the winning of the pennant by the Pirates.

DONIE BUSH HAS FAITH

The boys in the back room may have their doubts about the lad doing his stuff again this year as well as he did it last season, but there is no doubt in Manager Donie Bush's head that he will star again.

Manager Bush knows that Brother Lloyd can fall off quite a few points in batting, that his base running might be a bit shy of what it was last year, and his play in all departments might slacken up a bit—and he still would be good enough to rank as a star.

The only real fault Kid Waner had last year was a weak throwing arm. Bush knows that. So do many opponents who took liberties with that arm and gained an extra base when they shouldn't have.

"The kid's got nerve, and that counts for everything," says Bush. "When he's trying something all the time, even though he doesn't do it in the most orthodox fashion, he is bound to get away with some of the stuff he tries. I'm for him solid."

Brother Lloyd need not worry about his job this summer. It is his from the start, and the added confidence that will give him should do much toward his having another great season.

LLOYD IS FIGHTER

Perhaps Brother Lloyd won't be as good as he was last summer. That is asking a lot of any young man, to repeat a season like the younger Waner has last summer, but you'd be surprised to know the number of critical ones who are stringing along with him to repeat.

Young Waner can hit. He is fast on the bases and afield. He has nerve. He is a fighter. In other words, he will be in there fighting—and don't think that won't have results.

He knows what the boys have been saying during the winter months and he knows that they think he'll turn out to be just another ball player on the Pirates' payroll this summer.

He also knows it is up to him to make good, and he's going to the Bucs' training camp early to be in prime condition for the test. He wants to show 'em, and don't be surprised if he does.

Of course, Brother Lloyd may slump badly in his work. If he does, you can expect the "I-told-you-so" boys to get out their chorus and sing lustily.

SANTA ANA MAN IS ENTRANT IN PYLE MARATHON

Several weeks of training have placed Lloyd Johnson, of Santa Ana, in condition for the start of the C. C. Pyle marathon across the United States which will start from Los Angeles March 4. The Santa Ana entrant will leave tomorrow for Ascot where the final session of workouts will be conducted.

The "bunion derby" will be run between Los Angeles and New York. As many as 500 are expected to toe the starting line.

Yesterday Johnson ran over a distance of 18 miles. Each morning he has been negotiating a round-trip course to Hewes ranch, a distance of more than 10 miles.

While in school at Barstow and Arlington, Johnson participated in many track meets. At Barstow high school he was captain of the basketball team. He ran the two mile event at the Los Angeles Seminary. While attending the grade schools at Arlington, he was the champion of Riverside county in the running events.

The Santa Ana runner, who is 27 years old, has been employed as a milk delivery carrier at Raitt's dairy.

Number 180 has been assigned to him for the marathon. During the next week, Johnson is to run at Ascot.

LARRY FRENCH, YOUNG HURLER, TO JOIN DUCKS

Larry French, young pitcher, was reported enroute to the training camp here of the Portland Beavers today, accounting for another missing member of the Pacific Coast league's gunning corps.

French, a slim southpaw with a world of stuff, left his home in Visalia with the statement that he had received a satisfactory contract after holding out since his first offer, received several days ago. He is expected in town tonight or tomorrow morning.

Several days ago it was understood that the Beaver officials were in no mood to kick loose with more change for the young lefthander who has been "nursed" along for two years and showing only flashes of form.

"Cowboy" Tomlin, right hand pitcher who also did a bit of outfielding for the Ducks last term, was expected in camp today or tomorrow.

HOUSE KAYOES RANDOLPH

Giants' Problem Is Loss Of Hornsby

M'GRAW'S CLUB LOOMS AS REAL RAG CONTENDER

Pitching Staff Should Be Better and Outfield Is Rated Equally as Good

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—The New York Giants will make their bid for the National league pennant this season minus Rogers Hornsby who batted .361 las tseason and drove in 125 runs.

Surely a team which finished third in 1927 and was a dangerous contender almost until the very last few days of the campaign ought to be one of the favorites for 1928, but it was Hornsby—the man who's gone—that spurred the Giants on with his dynamic leadership and his deadly bat in their last wild dash which almost carried them past the Pirates and Cardinals.

Hornsby was traded to the Boston Braves "for the good of the team," as President Charles A. Stoneham maintains, but it may develop along in late August that Hornsby's absence will hurt "the team" more than his presence ever did.

"In a lost minute effort to strengthen his pitching staff, John McGraw traded Burleigh Grimes to the Pirates for Vic Aldridge. Both are veteran right handers but McGraw counts on Aldridge, a great spring pitcher, to help his club get away to a flying start.

"It is McGraw's psychology to get out in front as soon as possible and he believes Aldridge will help the Giants' early drive. Aldridge won 15 games and lost 10 last season."

Undoubtedly the problem that weighs most heavily upon John McGraw's furrowed brow is the replacement of Hornsby.

John McGraw

Andy Cohen, the Hebrew stripling who performed sensationally for the Buffalo Club in the International league last season, may fill the gap in the defense at second base, but there is no one in sight who can bat .361 and drive in 125 runs.

In place of Hornsby the Giants have Francis Hogan, a promising catcher with only one year of major league experience, Jimmy Welsh, an ordinary outfielder with abum leg, and a flock of rookies some of whom may strengthen the club.

Twenty-three new players are on the Giants' roster.

Forgeting Hornsby, the other three-quarters of the Giants' infield looks to be about a sweet combination as any manager could wish for. Bill Terry at first, Travis Jackson at short, and Freddy Lindstrom at third, are all capable, if not great ball players.

Jackson is rated the peer of National league shortstops. A finished fielder and a timely hitter, Terry is one of the best first basemen in the league. With his spinal ailment well, Lindstrom should develop into a star this season.

McGraw banks on Cohen to play second. Andy batted .353 at Buffalo last year and proved an all-around star. Andy Rees, the youngster who subbed at third for Lindstrom las tseason, may be shifted to second if Cohen provese a failure.

The outfield prospects are good. Ed Roush is almost certain to play center and George Harper right. "Lefty" O'Doul, the most valuable player in the Pacific Coast league, and Welsh are apt to fight it out for the left field berth. O'Doul hit .378 with San Francisco ast year. and Welsh hit .287 with the Braves, Melvin Ott, a youngster who was with the Giants last year, and Art Jahn, who was with Los Angeles year and formerly with the Chicago in the Pacific Coast league last Cubs, may offer strong bids for a regular outfield berth.

Hogan, the husky kid from the Bravese, Jack Cummings and Zach Taylor are expected to form the catching staff. Cummings and Taylor were with the club last season. Hogan looked good last year and he may be the Giants' first string catcher. He has a rifle arm and is a heavy hitter.

The Giants have 17 pitchers who will try for berths. Virgil Barnes, Fred Fitzsimmons, Larry Benton and Dutch Henry are the veterans who are back. Benton led the league in games won and lost last season with 15 victories and 4 defeats.

Three of the best pitchers in the International league last season

THEY'LL HAVE SOMETHING TO TELL THEIR GRANDCHILDREN

Champions? H-m-m-m-m!!! Nothing else except, brother! You are looking on Coach Andrew Jackson (Bill) Cook's classy Santa Ana high school Class B basketball squad which cinched no worse than a tie for the Coast Preparatory league cherry pie yesterday by nosing out San Diego.

JIM M'LARNIN, TERRIS MIX IN N. Y. TONIGHT

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—The lightweight crown, which rests with such a jaunty angle on the curls of the swarthy little Sheik of Rockford, Sammy Mandell, is the aim and object of two fistic pretenders who do battle tonight in the ring at Madison Square Garden here.

Jimmy McLarnin, sometimes called the "Belfast Spider," and even more recently christened "Babyface," is making his New York debut and his most recent attempt of recognition by taking on Sid Terris, the galloping ghost of the Ghetto.

Even the National Boxing association will recognie the winner of tonight's bout as the man Sammy Mandell must meet in defense of the 135-pound title.

The Gretto has its shekels down on Terris. Not even the prestige of knockout victories achieved by McLarnin within the past year can swerve the East side. As a result the New York Hebrew will reign a favorite over the Westerner at odds of 8 to 5.

There is a well defined feeling in boxing circles that either principal in this bout would be more than a match for the champion.

Mandell has so assiduously avoided a match with the best man in his division that he has come to be regarded with suspicion in the east. It may be that Sammy is underrated, and that when the time comes he will justify himself as lightweight champion.

McLarnin, who has been training under the eye of Gus Wilson at Crangeburg, will have a few pounds advantage over Terris but it is doubtful if this will react in Jimmy's favor.

ORANGE, LONG BEACH CLASH TUESDAY IN OPENING GAME OF SOUTHLAND TITLE SERIES

Already virtual champions of the Orange County league by reason of their decisive victory over Brea-Olinda, 35 to 17, last night, Coach Hod Chambers' Orange high school quintet prepared today for its first Southern California championship playoff contest at Orange next Tuesday night with Long Beach, undefeated titleholders of the Coast Preparatory league.

Orange's Class C five also defeated Brea-Olinda quite handily last evening. The score was 20 to 7. Both the varsity and "C" quintets will tangle again Saturday evening at Brea.

Orange went through its division of the County league without a defeat in the Class A section but must dispose of Brea-Olinda, champion of the smaller school division, which also includes Downey, Garden Grove and Capistrano, before it can represent the league against Long Beach.

This also goes for the Fullerton Class B five which was to play Garden Grove this afternoon. Huntington Beach will carry the league's colors into the Class D playoffs.

POLY LIGHTIE VICTORIOUS A BORDER, 26-2

Whittier, Pasadena Tea Also Win So Playoff Deadlock Seems Certa

Santa Ana high school too clung tenaciously to the Class basketball championship of Coast Preparatory league follo ing its 26 to 22 triumph over S Diego at San Diego yesterday the claim of Coach Bill Coo powerful quintet was shared two other schools—Whittier a Pasadena, who finished their s sons with the same standings, games won as against only game lost.

Whittier, like Santa Ana, hard pressed to stay in the r but managed to wrest a 32 to victory from Long Beach at W tier yesterday. Pasadena had easier time conquering Glend 24 to 9, at Pasadena.

On account of the deadlock the lightweight crown, a th cornered playoff within the lea itself will be necessary but w and when this will begin was known to any of the local letic attaches.

Bill Cook

San Diego, one of the leading scoring quintets in the Class B circuit, got the jump on the Santa Ana lighties and made things unpleasant all through the bristling encounter which was anybody's until the end.

The Hilltoppers left the floor at the half wit one-point advantage, 12 to 11, Poly came back on the court a new spirit with the resump of play and battled its way a seven-point lead early in third quarter. The shooting Monty Flanders, forward, and all-around dribbling and floor of Captain Delmer Brown, g were instrumental in this rally.

San Diego came back wit challenging flourish in the fo quarter, slipping into a mor tary lead, but Flanders got again and soon had his club in front by a four-point ma

U. C. L. A. Cagers Humble Trojans
By 34-27 Score

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—The University of California at Los Angeles upset U. S. C., leading quintet in the Southern division of the Pacific Coast conference, 34 to 27, here last night.

The Trojans were far from accurate in their shooting and did not show the form which allowed them to beat U. C. L. A. last week, 45 to 35. The two teams meet again Saturday night.

They are Jim Falkner, a tall left hander who won 21 games and lost 10 for Toronto; Jess Doyle, who won 14 and lost 10 for Toronto, and Leo Mangum, who won 21 and lost 7 for Buffalo.

Bill Clarkson, who was with the Giants last year; Ben Cantwell, a right-hander from Jacksonville, who showed well on the last Western trip with the Giants; Bill Walker, a lefthanded strike-out artist from Denver; and Chester Nichols from Jersey City who was up once before with the Pirates are the other leading prospects.

(Starting with this issue, The Register presents a series of up-to-date stories from each of the major league cities, covering the departure of theclubs for training camp and giving the views of managers, owners and players on the prospects, newcomers and other features of interest to baseball fans.—Sport Editor's Note.)

Oxy, Whittier In First Place Tie

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Occidental and Whittier were tied for the lead in the Southern conference basketball race today as a result of Whittier's victory over Redlands, 33 to 23, on the Whittier college floor last night.

The tie may be broken tomorrow night when Ponoma plays at Occidental and Caltech at Whittier in what are the final scheduled games for the two leaders. However, a play-off may be necessary.

on the TRAIL of BIG LEAGUERS

TAMPA Fla.—After an ultimatum from President Clark Griffith, of the Washington Senators Sam Jones, veteran hurler, is expected to desert the ranks of holdouts and accept the terms offered him. Fred Barberry, pitcher, who was classed as a holdout, has accepted terms and wired President Griffith he will report Saturday.

BRADENTOWN, Fla.—With only two pitchers absent the Boston Red Sox battery men have buckled down to real training. The two absent hurlers are Bryan Harriss, who is ill, and Charlie Ruffing, who is a holdout.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—The Philadelphia Phillies will begin batting practice next week, their new pilot, Burt Shotten, said today. In practices so far Shotten has been stressing running, to get the players' wind in shape.

FORT MEYERS, Fla.—With 22 players in camp, the Philadelphia Athletics have started strenuous work. Sixteen pitchers, four catchers, a rookie shortstop and an outfielder are here.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—"Great," was Manager Jack Slattery's comment after he saw in action the infield with which the Boston Braves may start the 1928 season. The lineup of the inner works is Eddie Brown at first; Rogers Hornsby at second; Eddie Farrell at short and "Doc" Gautreau at third.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Hampered by wind and cold weather, the New York Giants have been able to get in little practice since their arrival here. Frank Hogan, catcher, is ill with a cold.

AVON PARK, Fla.—Manager Bill McKechnie has posted a set of training rules for the St. Louis Cardinals. They specify all players must be ready for practice at 7:30 a. m.; no gambling; golf games only on off days; near beer as the strongest drink.

Hawaii May Meet Indiana Gridders

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 24.—Indiana university's football team has been extended an invitation to meet the University of Hawaii at Honolulu next September, it was announced here.

EMANUEL READY TO GO AGAINST MICKEY WALKER

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—On advice of Jack Dempsey, Armand Emanuel, San Francisco Jewish heavyweight, will fight Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, at any time Walker wants a bout, Charles Emanuel, the bay city boy's father and manager, said today.

The elder Emanuel said that he had had indirect reports that Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, had declared he would like to match the two boys.

"And what's more if my boy can't knock Walker out in six rounds he'd better be a lawyer as he first intended," Emanuel said. "Jack Dempsey believes Armand would knock Walker out in six rounds. If Dempsey doesn't fight for the world's heavyweight title again in September he is going to become Armand's manager.

"Walker would probably enter the ring at 166 pounds and Armand at 176. That's just like Walker fighting Berlenbach.

"I think this thing is a lot of Kearns' ballyhoo. Just another attempt of Kearns' to irritate Dempsey because he knows the former champ is advising my boy.

"However, Jack Doyle of the Olympic auditorium here is the man for Kearns to see. He'll arrange the bout," Charles Emanuel concluded.

JACK FIELDS LOSES TO SAMMY MANDELL

CHICAGO, Feb. 24. — Sammy Mandell, world's lightweight boxing champion, easily defeated Jackie Fields, Los Angeles sensation, in a 10-round bout here last night.

Mandell's title was not at stake because of both boxers being overweight. Mandell weighed 137½; Fields 140.

Mandell led the fighting throughout and had a large margin over Fields in 8 of the 10 rounds. The west coast fighter managed to hold the champion even in only the second and last rounds.

Two L. A. Umpires Get League Posts

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 24.—Western league umpires for the coming season were announced here by Dale Gear, president of the league. Among them are F. W. Green, Los Angeles, and Joseph Toman, Los Angeles.

BASQUE ALTERS HIS PLANS, WORKS HARD

Despite previous intentions to do only light work in the next two days, Paulino Uzcudun revised his plans to do further sparring today at his Brea training quarters.

George Godfrey, Negro heavyweight, appeared to be in excellent condition at his Ojai camp for his bout with the Basque in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Godfrey has dropped his surplus poundage which was very noticeable when he first started his condition. He was to box with Napoleon Jack Dorval and Sam Baker today.

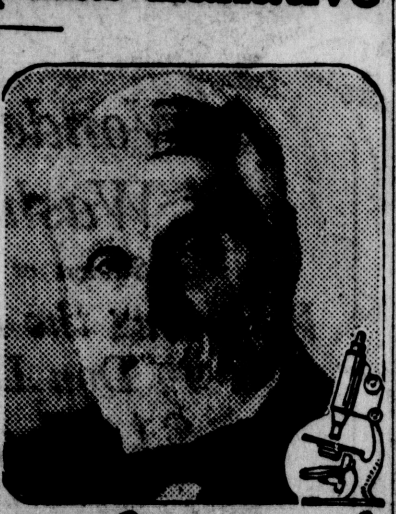
Prescription He Wrote in 1892 is the World's Most Popular Laxative

When Dr. Caldwell started the practice of medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plenty of plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year prove that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.



W. B. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

DIARY KEPT BY AUTO THIEF FOR 2 YEAR PERIOD

By RALPH H. MAITLAND
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 24.—An automobile stealing and selling business, highly systemized and lucrative, was revealed here with the confession of Howard Brashear, 31, that he stole 40 automobiles during the last two years.

Brashier conducted his chosen work with great care and kept exact records of all his transactions, it was discovered. When arrested, he was found to possess a diary of all his thefts, recording the date and procedure of obtaining the cars, together with the name, address and a certain amount of information concerning his victim.

Brashear employed practically every method known to crooks in stealing an automobile, but his favorite and most used way was to learn the motor and serial number of a car, andy then send to the factory, asking for an ignition key to fit the car.

He carried an alphabetically classified notebook in which he kept the numbers and places of parking the automobile.

After obtaining a key and stealing the car, he would buy a wrecked car from an insurance company and transfer the license plates thereon to the stolen car.

Thus he was able, if questioned, to show a clear bil of sale for the numbers found on the car in question. In event of the numbers on the wreck being obscured or destroyed, Brashear would send the bill of sale to the manufacturing company and get new serial numbers.

There were few instances when Brashear was unable to learn the numbers of a "prospect." He was a good talker and of an agreeable nature, and almost invariably would succeed in engaging his victim in a conversation which would lead to a discussion of motors and motor numbers.

"In several instances," said Brashear, "I was able to convince automobile owners that I had a car of the same make, the number of which had become obscured, and that I would appreciate it if they would allow me to copy their serial numbers to obtain a new key or part for my own machine.

"However, I usually came around at night and got the numbers without approaching the owner. There were times when the numbers were not readable. Then I had to employ the more clumsy methods of picking a lock and perhaps crossing ignition wires to start an automobile. I cay, though, that I never broke a window or forced a lock to gain possession of a machine."

Brashear conducted his selling business very methodically, having regular hours and keeping books on his sales in orderly fashion. His wife was under the impression that he owned a legitimate second hand automobile business.

Liquid Rubber In New English Ship

LIVERPOOL, England, Feb. 25.—Liquid rubber will be carried to market in tanks, like oil, on the newest British steamer built for the rubber trade.

The Greystoke Castle, just launched, will be equipped with huge tanks capable to holding 1000 to 1500 tons of latex or liquid rubber. The steamer is 425 feet long and displaces 13,200 tons.

In the past rubber usually has been dried in the tropics and brought to the occidental factories in sheets.

Wadsworth Sees Victory For G.O.P.

HONOLULU, T. H. Feb. 24.—Former United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, of New York, on a brief vacation in Hawaii, declared that New York political conditions are so chaotic it is impossible for him to say whether he shall ever be a candidate for the senate again.

Wadsworth predicted that the Republican party is assured of victory in the next presidential election because of prosperous conditions brought about during the administration of President Coolidge.

Talking with politicians and business men here Wadsworth said that while in the senate he was glad to vote many times for a high protective tariff which would protect Hawaii's sugar interests.

PASTOR TELLS INFLUENCE OF MUSIC IN LIFE

An Italian dinner, high class instrumental music and a brief talk on music by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, featured the meeting yesterday of the Santa Ana Lions club, when D. C. Cianfoni, director of the Santa Ana municipal band, officiated as program chairman.

Following the rendition of three numbers by a stringed quartette composed of Elwood Bear, Miss Virginia Bell Walton, Marion Nau and Eddie Burns, Cianfoni expressed his belief that service clubs and other organizations of this city should give preference to the better class of music instead of the jazz type.

Later in the program, the Rev. Mr. Porter commented on the influence of music on human activity, and pointed to the value of harmony in all relations of life.

'Faith in an employe creates harmony, while disbelief creates discord," the pastor said, in emphasizing his point.

Declaring that musical organizations in Santa Ana are contributing to better appreciation on the part of citizens of the higher types of music, the pastor said he hoped that the people of this community would more fully appreciate the value of the Santa Ana municipal band and accord it all the support possible. Mention was made of the success of the band in presentation of the program at Long Beach Sunday, and the fact that Cianfoni has received scores of letters from radio fans and persons present at the auditorium paying the highest compliments to the musical organization.

In the absence of President Harold Yost, Vice President Lawrence Coffing presided over the business session of the meeting.

Simple Home Recipe For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

If you are a victim of Stomach Trouble—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this good advice.

Artificial digestants and starvation diets are seldom needed. Within reason, most folks may eat what they like, if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion. And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a little Bisurated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless form of Magnesia that swiftly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A few days' trial of Bisurated Magnesia (powder or tablets), which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that fully 90% of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Try Bisurated Magnesia today!—Adv.

BREA, Feb. 24.—With the granting of a Scoutmaster's diploma to J. G. NORTHERN ORANGE COUNTY JUNIOR COLLEGE PLAN IS BACKED BY ANAHEIM C. C.

ANAHEIM, Feb. 24—Preliminary plans toward the formation of a northern Orange county junior college on a campus separate from the Fullerton union high school were offered at a joint meeting of the directors of the Anaheim and Fullerton chambers of commerce in Anaheim yesterday. Representatives of Fullerton, Anaheim, Placentia and Brea attended the meeting.

The furthering of a junior college for the north end of the county, which is sponsored by Fullerton, met with the backing of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, a resolution being passed by the Anaheim body which gave definite assurance of support and co-operation.

The Placentia booster body offered its support to the proposal at a meeting of Fullerton and Placentia booster men held Wednesday at Placentia.

In forming a norther Orange county junior college, it will be necessary to disincorporate the present junior college district and form a new union junior college district.

The general sentiment expressed was that the junior college movement would take the place of the junior high school project and the proposed 6-4-4 plan of education.

Among the speakers at yesterday's joint meeting were R. S. Gregory, president of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce; Dale R. King, chairman of the junior college committee of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce; J. A. Prizer, a candidate for the Fullerton union high school board of education; L. O. Culp, vice principal of the Fullerton union high school; Albert Launer, director of the Fullerton booster body, and Frank Mason, of Brea.

Los Angeles Impresaria Makes Flying Visit To This City

An interesting visitor in the city yesterday was Miss Ruth Cowan, young Los Angeles impressaria, who is responsible for bringing to Santa Ana the Ebell Artist Concert course which opened so auspiciously in the winter, with the appearance of Madame Louise Homer.

Miss Cowan was here to complete arrangements for the appearance of the artist of the concert course, Arthur Hackett Granville, American tenor, who will be presented on the night of March 9. After consulting with Mrs. F. E. Coulter, Ebell president, and members of the program committee, Miss Cowan continued on to San Diego where she was to hear the Spalding concert, also being given under her direction.

A recent trip through Oklahoma and Texas was of much interest to the impressaria, who had the opportunity while absent, to hear the American opera, "The King's Henchman," which is causing such a furore through the east. The libretto of the opera, as everyone knows, was written by Edna St. Vincent Millay, and the music by Deems Taylor. It achieved a remarkable success in New York City, and when the all-American company started out for a limited number of engagements, Arthur Hackett Granville was chosen to sing the tenor role, and met with a wonderful success.

He has just completed the tour and started on his concert tour of the west, during which he will fulfill his Santa Ana engagement. While in Southern California, the tenor will have a few days in Los Angeles with his brother, Charles Granville, who is principal tenor with the Chicago Opera company, soon to play a Southland engagement.

Enjoyable Bridge Tea Compliments Recent Bride

One of the prettiest affairs of the week had as its incentive, a bride of recent date, Mrs. Perry E. Lewis, formerly Miss Minnie Childs, who was honor guest at a charming bridge tea presented by Mrs. Fred Conover.

The hospitable Conover home on Mountain View avenue, Tustin, reflected Washington's birthday in its decorative scheme of red, white and blue, and the motif was uppermost in the original tally cards distributed by the hostess among her dozen guests. For she had fashioned the cleverest of little red cherries with green leaves, waxed and attached to art paper tally cards.

Scores tallied on these showed that first place had been taken by Mrs. A. H. Farrar, who was rewarded with a large box of bonbons. Mrs. Charles L. Davis, scoring second high, received a set of daintily embroidered bridge napkins, the handwork of the hostess. A box of chocolates was presented Mrs. W. Risk, a clever score pad went to Mrs. George Strachan, and a quaint little Japanese olive fork consoled Mrs. Charles Searls. Mrs. Lewis also came into the lucky circle of gift recipients, for as the honor guest, she received a beautiful cluster of waxed daffodils, looking as if they had just blossomed in the garden of the hostess.

Decked with hand-embroidered linens, and touches of the tricolors, the bridge tables were used for serving the delicious sandwiches, coffee, cherry whip and cake, of the refreshment menu. The cake, iced with white and decorated with red cherries and green leaves, was especially eloquent of the patriotic holiday.

Mrs. Conover's guests included in addition to her honoree, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Frank Fowler, Mrs. J. L. Marshall, Mrs. S. A. Jones, Mrs. Charles L. Davis, Mrs. Edwin Wright, Mrs. George Strachan, Mrs. Harry M. Smith, Mrs. Charles Searls, Mrs. W. Risk, Mrs. A. H. Farrar and Mrs. Blanche Brown.

"Now don't be scared," the Balloon King said. "Blow up these balloons. Go right ahead. Just take a good deep breath and it's as easy as can be. I'll stay here till you do it right, and then I'll disappear from sight, 'cause after you have blown them up, you surely won't need me."

"All right," the bunch heard Scouty shout. And then the Tinies started out to do just as they had been told. My, what a funny sight. Each Tiny blew his balloon up high. Wee Clowny said, "Oh, me. Oh, my!" And then the Balloon King added, "That is fine. You're doing right.

"And, now I'll leave you to your fun. I'll come back when the day is done, and in the meantime, help yourselves to all the thrills you can." "Oh, thank you," all the Tinies cheered. And then the queer man disappeared. Said Coppy, "It's too bad he's gone. He is a dandy man."

"Oh, look," cried Scouty, "my balloon will be a playmate pretty soon. It has a head and little feet, and very funny face. This sure will be a happy day if they will come to life and play. Let's see who blows his balloon up first. We'll have a little race."

Then one balloon said, "Howdy do. We're glad we've come to play with you. Please blow me up a wee bit more. I think I am too thin. There, that is plenty. Not too high, or I'll go floating to the sky." "He's come to life," yelled Carpy, and this made the whole bunch grin.

One fat balloon then danced around and did queer tricks upon the ground. "I'm pretty good at this," it said. "Though I don't like to brag. As soon as we're all blown up high, I know a stunt that we can try. Let's all play nice together in a little game of tag."

(The Tinymites have more fun in Rubber Land in the next story.)

Beauty Chats

BY ANN ALYSIS

Women of the present generation have been wont to smile sneeringly or laugh derisively at the styles of 25 years ago. The bobbed head, the simple gown, the short and freedom-giving skirt were so sensible that they felt that they were here to stay.

Of course if any one were to propose that tomorrow everyone should appear in long draped skirts and long hair elaborately dressed, there would be open rebellion. But that is not the way these changes are brought about, but rather is the change made gradually through several seasons.

We are in the course of such changes now. Long hair, longer skirts, or short skirts and long draperies at sides and back show the trend.

What has long hair to recommend its apparent revival? No one can dispute the fact that the bobbed style brought with it a love for cleanliness and trimness that never were part of the regime when long hair was the vogue..

The head being round, any arrangement of long hair, except at the neckline, is bound to slip from its moorings and as a consequence, untidiness and whispy locks are the common order of the day—and the night. So it behooves us all, if we wish to keep this trimness, to take thought now for the future, and not follow fashion blindly if it dictates long hair again.

JAPANESE LANTERNS

When using Japanese lanterns for decoration, weight them down with pebbles and sand. The sand will put out any sparks that drop.

BEAN SALAD

Canned French beans make a good salad when used with piccalilli and French dressing. Serve on Romaine.

AT THE THEATER

WEST COAST-WALKER

If Emil Jannings continues making such great pictures, critics throughout the world will find it hard to procure adjectives to adequately describe them.

Jannings has scored again, this time in a remarkable characterization as a military general. His newest picture has been titled "The Last Command," and it closes tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater.

This American-born German actor presents in this new production so commendable a figure that it cannot be compared to those of "The Way of All Flesh," and "Variety."

"The Last Command" is a story of the red revolt in Russia, showing Jannings as a mighty general, strictly military but beloved by his men. He befriends a girl but imprisons her companion, the girl in turn saving him from death at the hands of the blood-mad revolutionists. He then comes to America in search of this fair savior, and there the thread of the story takes a strange twist.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

Syd Chaplin is scoring the biggest success of his career in "The Fortune Hunter," current attraction at the Yost Broadway theater.

"The Fortune Hunter" is the screen version of the brilliant stage play. Graham Baker's picturization has kept all the uproarious mirth and humanity of the original, and the added advantage of staging and photography make of the piece the tremendous hit it is.

It recounts the story of a young go-getter who swoops down on a Vermont village with the intention of marrying the richest girl in town. Beautiful Helene Costello plays the lead. The cast is good.

Onion Sets at Newcom's.—Adv.

WEST END THEATER

Buster Keaton,—he of the frozen face,—comes to the West End theater tomorrow in "The General," his great comedy spectacle of the sixties, the comedian's most pretentious effort. "The General" cost $500,000 to produce.

Unlike many comedies, "The General" has a real love story running through it, a breath-taking, hair-raising tale of soldiers and engines and sweethearts and a face that never smiles. The girl thinks Buster is a slacker because the recruiting officer thinks an engineer more valuable to the South than a foot soldier.

ORANA PLAYERS

Can you imagine such a person as C. William Booth an outcast? That is exactly what he portrays in "The Black Sheep" which is being presented by the Orana Players all this week. He carries the lead and is supported by Miss Maryeda Green. Kenneth Price, Herbert Shelley, George Mathison, Austa Pierce, Mercedes Lowerie and Harold Boyce are in the cast.

With neither sister knowing that the other was to be married the Misses Grace and Lucille Neil of Marinette, Wis., were married in their home town on the same evening.

EVENING GOWNS IN FLORIDA SUBDUED

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24.—A hushed note prevails in the tropical night clubs, the dances in open air patios under a shimmering moon and at the dinner parties of the winter colony. Meaning the gowns only. The gaiety never is that way.

But evening costumes, if we except the wraps and cloaks, which have an inclination to be bright in color and brighter with beads, are more subdued in tone than their immediate predecessors in evening wear. Just by the way of contrast to sports wear, perhaps, which never was more assertive.

The gowns which are appearing at the evening functions here in the winter colony indicate, if they do not dictate, the modes of next season on the beaches and in the clubs of the north. For the leisurely sun-chasers who follow the season south and north are jaded of the styles which have been current through the summer, and must be served with next season's modes while winter runs its course.

It may be noted that evening gowns are turning largely to bouffant, the full-skirted and swirling line so becoming to the slim and girlish, whether maid or matron. And the line of the skirt, in the main, is irregular.

A bouffant taffeta seen in one night club was of a shade of deep coral, with a fringe of its own material. Then there was a taffeta and net bouffant in gold, a filmy dancing frock, with a cluster of poppies at the waist.

An ash blonde wore a black bouffant, with tier on tier of net. The one touch of color was a girdle of pink ribbons and flowers.

An evening wrap of gold georgette, sparkling in contrast to the quiet gown, was covered with hundreds of opalescent disks. Another, equally gay, was of flame velvet, with shirred collar. Another wrap, almost as bright, was of bright blue velvet and chiffon, made brighter still with beads and pink insets.

But the tones of the gowns proper are soft and quiet and subdued, like the muted pleading music of the cloistered dancing places.

University Gets Book Collection

BERKELEY, Feb. 24.—Considerable material from the library of the late President Emeritus Benjamin Ide Wheeler was accepted officially by the University of California board of regents recently.

Unbound material and 1013 volumes, representing nearly all that remained of Wheeler's library, which was partially destroyed by fire in 1923, was presented to the university by Mrs. Wheeler.

COUTS DAILY EARCHING FOR FASHION IDEAS

EW YORK, Feb. 24—Baseball who see need for the scouts, each year seek out new stars the diamond, have much in mon with modern women deading variety each month or so their fashions, in the opinion of prominent style expert in New k, interviewed this week by ted Press.

Like the big league ball club gnate who each year sets about find the player he will star in stadium, like the financier scouts for information on ks and bonds and the diplomat has his scouts gathering data the next move on diplomacy's kerboard, fashion houses must loy many sleuths," said this York young woman, a repreative of Tobe, leading New k fashion setter.

ach season, in fact all the year round except for the dullest times, according to this authority, the fashion scout is busy. She—it is usually she although sometimes men may be found in this work—is often found watching the theatregoers at some premiere, sometimes at a fashionable supper club, at Biarritz, Le Touquet, Palm Beach, Newport or Lido. And as a result of her careful notes there may appear the slave bracelet vogue, a new silhouette, a new hat craze or any of the other scores of clothes fads that either endure for a week or become permanent fashions trends.

"In the summer of 1920," said this New York fashions expert, "when Paris was a commercial whirlpool with the dressmakers' openings, and the women of New York were eagerly waiting to learn what new kind of ornament would be hung upon the chemise frocks we had worn since the first years of the war, a cable flashed over the wires to one of the leading Fifth Avenue specialty shops . . .

"Have bought personally as a private customer entire Vionnet collection of five models. Suggest we launch her."

"If any single incident can be said to mark the beginning of the modern period of fashion, it was that cable from Tobe. She believed that she had found those qualities in the creations of this dressmaker who was designing clothes with the dignity, simplicity and architectural symmetry of our skyscrapers.

"Now, seven years later, she is one of the leading factors in influencing the type of clothes worn by well dressed women throughout the world.

"Fashion direction is one of the new professions for women. It is a profession because it presupposes specialized training combined with individual talent. It is highly paid because it is either valuable or worthless.

"It is easy to see how a store can either lose vast sums or make an outstanding success backing the judgment of the fashion director. That this work is usually successful may be measured by the fact that one of the largest stores in the United States has more than 40 fashion directors, including one for toys and one for groceries"!

At Dutch auctions the auctioneer begins with a high figure, which he gradually reduces until a bidder accepts it. This system was originally adopted to evade a tax upon ordinary auctions imposed by Napoleon.

A church in London still possesses an income originally given to it for the purpose of buying faggots with which to burn heretics.

Harmonica Helps Boy Sell Papers

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 24.—Mario Polarosa, San Leandro newsboy, admits that music has charms to soothe savage breasts, "but it takes snappy jazz to entice the flappers to buy papers," he declared after experiments carried out with the aid of his harmonica.

One has to know his audience, he explained. For instance it wouldn't due to play selections from the Tales of Hoffman for a flapper. Better offer "My Blue Heaven" or "My Baby's Ankles."

On the other hand, Mario continued, it would be a pure waste of wind to try "My Blue Heaven" on a serious-minded music lover. One had better play Schubert's Serenade or possibly "O sole Mio."

Mario's procedure is to entice the customer to buy a paper with the promise that he will supplement it with a selection on his harmonica.

The musician, who is 12 years old, recently won second prize in a harmonica playing contest competing with men of all ages.

STUART'S Laxative CALCIUM WAFERS

Do you suffer from constipation, indigestion, and sluggish liver?

If so, you already know that ordinary laxatives give only temporary help. They do not get to the root of the trouble, which, unless checked in time, may produce serious results.

PANCOLATE

more than a physic

REACHES THE CAUSE

is not an ordinary laxative. While it has a pleasant laxative effect right from the start, eventually it overcomes the most chronic conditions.

Take a course of Pancolate NOW. Obtainable in boxes of 12 tablets at 25c, and in bottles of 60 at $1.00 from all drug stores.—The Peplow Co., 117 E. Colorado St., Pasadena, Calif.

Some women age so young

OU'VE known them . . . men who start out in life diantly fresh and alive. . . . en something happens. most before you know it their bloom and freshness ve gone. . . . Youth with health! What a pathetic ng it is! Pinched, wan eks and pain-dulled eyes en, by every right, they uld be just beginning to e!

Constipation wrecks health happiness for thousands women and men. Stealing uty. Thieving vitality. It he cause of untold disease and suffering.

And more's the pity when it can be so ely prevented. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is ranteed to relieve constipation safely. prevent it ever beginning its deadly work.

takes ALL-BRAN to be 100% effective

llogg's ALL-BRAN is rich in bulk—and it "bulk" that relieves constipation. It abs moisture and carries it through the alitary canal. Gently distending the intes—sweeping out poisons and wastes. In art-bran product, there is seldom enough to do this work effectively. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran.

Totally unlike habit-forming drugs

ALL-BRAN is infinitely better than dangerous pills and laxatives—which become useless unless the dose is constantly increased. A naturally healthful cereal. Delicious with milk or cream—with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Sprinkle into soups. Mix with other cereals. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, every meal. . . .

Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Don't risk part-bran substitutes which, at best, can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

FIVE ARMY AIRMEN GET FLYING CROSS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Award of distinguished flying crosses to five army airmen for extraordinary aerial achievements has been announced by the war department.

One of the awards, that to Capt. Hawthorne C. Gray, was posthumous. Gray was the hero of three remarkable balloon ascensions, in one of which, on May 4, 1927, he established an altitude record of 42,470 feet. In an effor to better that record he was killed Nov. 4, 1927.

Capt. John A. MacReady and Lt. Oakley G. Kelly were awarded distinguished flying crosses for completing the first transcontinental non-stop flight in history, on May 2 and 3, 1923.

Arthur G. Goebel, lieutenant in the air corps reserve, was decorated for his non-stop California-to-Hawaii flight on August 16 and 17, 1927.

Lt. Russell Maughan was decorated for his dawn-to-dusk flight from Mitchell Field, New York, to Crissy Field, San Francisco, Calif. on June 23, 1924.

Brunets Healthy? Professor Says They Should Be

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—If brunets are more emotional than blondes, they should be the more healthy, according to a talk given by George M. Stratton, professor of psychology at the University of California, before a gathering of the San Francisco center.

Most persons' trouble with their emotions is not in "blowing off steam" and causing scenes, Dr. Stratton explained. Bottling up feelings has a worse effect upon physical life than giving vent to the feelings he said.

"Far from being a sign that he lacks control, the emotionalist's feelings are an indication that he is healthy mentally and physically."

NEW YORK STOCKS

(By the Wall Street Journal Financial Review)

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Stock trading lagged today when business was the lightest since the middle of January. Prices were irregular.

Industrial stocks were strong at ﬁﬁﬁﬁﬁﬁﬁﬁﬁﬁﬁﬁ%%theETAO N the opening due to the influx of buying orders following the decline of $81,000,000 in brokerage loans announced after the close on Thursday. Selling immediatetly followed, causing many issues to drop.

In the afternoon railroad stocks, hitherto neglected, came to life and spurted more than two points in several instances, while Wabash rose more than four points. Participating in the advance were Atchison, Canadian Pacific, M. K. and T. and Kansas City Southern.

Selling went ahead in United State Rubber, International Nickel and Freeport, Texas.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Advancing from an early dip on lower Liverpool cables, wheat finished ⅜ to ⅞ cents higher on the Chicago board of trade today.

A sharp rally at Winnipeg caused the upturn. Heavy receipts weakened corn and the close was @ to ⅜ cents off; oats firmed on wheat's strength and finished unchanged to @ cent higher. Provisions closed higher.

Wheat opened a fraction lower on the bearish world situation and weakness at Liverpool. The cash market also held unchanged.

Receipts of 512 cars of corn gave the market a weak tone early in the session. The cash market declined another ½ cent on that factor.

Despite low farm reserves and the visible supply only half last year's figure, oats continued dull. Cash was unchanged.

All of the New Car Distincton—Most of the New Car Mileage—at Half the New Car Price.

To Prospective New Car Buyers:

Many customers express enthusiastic satisfaction with our Used Packards, and other used standard make cars, all taken in on new Packard Sixes and Eights.

It is a perfectly natural desire and ambition to own a high quality car, but too often the cost of such a new car forces the buyer to satisfy himself with a lesser car at lower cost and it is to these people—new car prospects if you please—that we appeal to regarding our Reconditioned Used Cars at less than half their original cost.

A good high-grade Used Car provides more in comfort, and in distinction than a new car of equal cost and affords the lower cost per mile for depreciation.

Study the examples given below and investigate these at or near the price of the new car you may be considering.

OFFICE OF CHURCH IN THE STATE

One fundamental in the creed of the American is that the church and the state must be entirely separated. This has been held to mean that there shall be no domination of the one by the other and that the denominational voice shall not be heard as a qualification for office. No one has any quarrel with this political doctrine. Quite a different question, however, is this: What should be the attitude of the church and the churchman in the political life of his community?

We have known men who seriously said that their religion and their business were entirely separated and neither interfered with the other. It is a peculiar attitude and argues little for the intelligence. In whatever way you view such an attitude it is hypocritical. There are many more who say that religion and politics will not mix. That is probably true if we mean that men must be selected because of some particular religion or from the lack of it. There should be no organic connection between the two. It is quite different to say that neither the church nor the church man should take an active interest in politics.

Politics is the science and art of government and this means the health, welfare and safety of the individuals. It means good or bad schools, roads, water supply, sanitation, parks, playgrounds, taxation, peace, war, child labor and a thousand things which go to make up the protection to life, morals and property which is all included in the science of government. But the church as well as the state is interested in all these things.

The individual alone does the voting but he is influenced or coerced by a thousand different voluntary associations whose avowed purpose is to affect the administration of government in one or more of its varied activities. Some of these associations and organizations are moral, some immoral, and some unmoral.

We do not criticize or at least we do not condemn such organizations, but take them as a matter of course and if we object to their propaganda we form counter organizations and endeavor to counteract their influence. The church organization alone do we condemn or criticize if it attempts to influence the administration of government, either in its politics or the election of the men to administer the laws. And is it not at least strange that this criticism comes most often and most insistently from those organizations which are themselves doing the same thing or from individuals who fear the influence of the church or church men upon their own personal activities? The slave holder said "The church must stay out of politics." The saloonkeeper and brewer said "The church must stay out of politics." The exploiter of child labor, the maker of war materials and the man who thinks that public office is a private snap all recognize that the influence of the church or church man in politics is pernicious so far as his personal interest is concerned and say, "Let the church mind its own business!" The reason, of course, is that their particular business cannot thrive under such opposition.

The church is only one of the voluntary organizations which go to make up the general organization of society and so long as it is purely voluntary has certainly at least as much right to use its influence as other voluntary groups.

The only valid objection can come from those who are the members of the churches themselves and then only as matters of expediency and policy and not on the basis of right. That the church should not become active in politics except where a moral issue predominates is perhaps true from the standpoint of internal peace, harmony and efficiency in its own peculiar work but that it has the right should be unquestioned. The duty of such activity is generally conceded now amongst the members themselves when any outstanding moral issue is at stake in the social or political life of the community, but this concession is modern.

The real test comes when it becomes a question of the man to administer the laws. Then it is said the church must keep its hands off. But, why? Almost any law may become a nullity if its enforcement or its administration is in the hands of men who are hostile to it. The last resort of men opposed to good laws is to elect the enemies of the law to have charge of its enforcement. Shall that organization which pre-eminently stands for the best use its influence for good laws and then stand idle and see them nullified by the election of indifferent or unfit men?

The question answers itself except that because of the inconsistencies and partisanship of church people like others it may be best for harmony in the church itself.

But what shall we say of those who form the membership of churches? If they, together with new members who still are like minded, with the same ideals, should combine on both measures and men who can say that the word politics would not lose some of the stigma which now attaches to it. Men do not cease to be good citizens when they join a church; if anything, they become better citizens and more interested in the common welfare.

NEW CONFLICTS WITHIN THE STATE

There are few people in the country disposed to take issue with President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin. Many of his most advanced statements are merely offered as suggestions, not as conclusions and his suggestions are backed with more thought than are the thoughts of most of those who are argumentatively inclined. So it is that Dr. Frank succeeds in giving us more material for thought and study probably than any other man and because of his scholarly manner succeeds in "getting away with it" where others would be labeled "red" and their usefulness destroyed.

In a recent speech in New York, Dr. Frank stated that America has outgrown its present political system. "All the main patterns of our politics were formed when we were a small nation," he said. "Every year the problems with which government must deal grow more technical and less political in the old sense of politics."

He suggests that the time may come when it will be wise to create another house in Congress, or to convert one of the present houses into a body of experts and representatives of occupational interests rather than representatives of particular areas.

"In this house," he says "the conflicting groups of our technical civilization would be challenged to a co-operate consideration of their respective problems. It would give the forces of our technical civilization the right of direct counsel instead of the necessity of indirect lobby."

Dr. Frank's reasons for these proposals involve the recognition that the nation has become physically too large ever again to develop a political statesmanship truly national in outlook. A glance at the subjects which have come up for consideration in any one recent session of Congress proves the hopelessness of expecting any average individual to be able to really understand all or even more than one or two of them. A further aggravation is the unmistakable tendency of the voters to elect leaders who are distinctly of the rank and file. More and more people mistrust the intellectually superior man. Honesty seems inherent in mental simplicity. Yet only the man of outstanding intellect can cope with the myriad problems of industry, development of natural resources, taxation, tariff, and international relations.

It is not necessary to agree with Dr. Frank's radical suggestion of a new or changed branch of government to recognize the conditions which give rise to that suggestion. The various commissions, bureaus, and departments of the cabinet are today handling these developing interests and responsibilities of the government; they may continue to function adequately and more competently in those branches as time passes. But there is certainly today more of a conflict of interest between the farmer and the manufacturer, the capitalist and the laborer, between any one of these groups and the same group in other countries, and between organized and unorganized groups than between the east and the west or the north and the south. The conflict between these geographic groups has resolved itself solely into a conflict for appropriations for roads, for public buildings, etc. But the conflicts between the former groups are multitudinous, their ramifications are most intricate and they are increasing rather than decreasing. Not only is it impossible to recognize them in the various bills that come before Congress but it is even well nigh impossible to ferret them out.

Certainly we can all recognize the fact of the changing order.

Merchants For Coeds

Redlands Facts

Domestic science and household economics are old stuff as courses of study for high school girls and college women. Now comes something different. It is a course in household mechanics given to co-eds at Ohio State University.

The 24 young women enrolled in that course are learning to mend a water pipe or faucet; to do all kinds of electric wiring, soldering, plumbing and pipe fitting; to read the gas, electric and water meters; to repair household machinery such as washing machines, electric ironers, sweepers, sewing machines and the rest.

Any man know's how much such a course of instruction is needed, but hardly any man believes it is possible to teach the fair but unscientific sex how to go about such tasks. Yet it is worth trying. The present pupils in this course are taking to it with genuine interest and relish and are said to be mastering the theory as well as the practice.

Food in the future homes of those 24 students may come out of cans now and then, but the cans will be opened correctly with no casualties, and other mechanical tasks will be approached scientifically and accomplished successfully.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

THE RIGHT ANSWER

Miss Mittie was a lovely teacher. The kindergarten children all agreed on that. They met her with outstretched arms and happy chirps and skips. They all wanted Miss Mittie to like them so they were as good as they could be. Most of the time. There are times when a child can't be so very good as all that. This morning Buster punched Harry and Harry, who wasn't skilful with his fists gave Buster a kick in the shin. But Miss Mittie made them stop and stood them in line.

When the circle was formed and the first songs sung, Miss Mittie told them a little story about two boys who were in the schoolyard. One boy snatched the other boy's cap and wouldn't give it back. When the owner tried to snatch it the other boy threw the cap high up on the closet. Then the boy who lost his cap was very angry and punched the naughty boy. What would you do if that happened to you and your hat was up on top of the closet?

The group considered this silently. Hugh was very busy fitting the lid on an empty box and seemed not to listen. "What would you do, Mary?" asked the teacher, to get the conversation going.

"I'd tell the teacher."

"Hm. What would you do, Max?"

"I'd ask him for my hat and if he wouldn't gimme it I'd tell my mother on him."

"So? What would you, Fritz?"

"I'd say, 'You gimme that' and if he wouldn't gimme it I'd take it away from him 'cause it was my hat and I'd say 'you gimme it' and—"

Miss Mittie saw she had loosened a floodgate and hastened to mend matters. Hugh was still engrossed in fitting the lid on the box. "Hugh. You tell us what you'd do."

Hugh gave the lid an extra shove and it snapped home. Then he gave the job a triumphant smack, wiped the end of his nose with his elbow and said sturdily, "I'd land him a punch on the snoot."

"That's just what he got," announced Buster proudly.

"'N' served him good'n' right," said Fritz decidedly, nodding his head in approval at the idea. "I'd give him a punch in the snoot, too, and I'd—"

"Let's sing 'Little Leaves Come Whirling'. Buster, you lead," said Miss Mittie. She was worried about this belligerent spirit.

No need. Hugh gave the right answer. When one child bullies another of his own class let them settle the matter according to their own understanding. A punch from Buster will adjust Harry's social point of view far more efficiently, much more promptly, and correctly, than anything we can say or do. It is unpardonable for a teacher to strike a child. But for a Buster to punch a Harry is logical and right. The law of growth demands it.

No, they won't fight all over the place. They know when to punch and when to use diplomacy. Their instinct is right. But the grownup must not SEE nor HEAR. It is a purely personal matter between the two. Separate them if absolutely necessary and ignore the rest. Be sure of the necessity before you notice them at all. Instinctively they know.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

RESIGNATION

Though at golf, I have never essayed the career
Of a long driving, sure putting star
I have learned, after many an arduous year
To shoot an occasional par,
And when I make ninety, as sometimes I do
As a few of my friends will attest,
My way to the clubhouse I proudly pursue
With my heart beating high in my chest.

Of late I have learned that the colleges find
That the lads, who are sharks at this game,
Are usually somewhat deficient in mind,
And have never a prospect of fame.
It is said that the youngsters who think it is fun
To swat at a little white ball
And shriek with delight when they make holes in one
Should not go to college at all.

For long I was hopeful to make the first flight
And to hammer my handicap down,
And still learn to act, or to speak, or to write
And thus earn myself double renown.
Now it seems it is needless to seek any more
For birdies and eagles in vain
For if ever I manage to better my score
It is proof that I'm lacking in brain.

Well, brains aren't so scarce in this country today
That I find it essential to try
At studies and books to keep pegging away
To add to an over supply.
So I guess I'll put up with the stock I have got Resign fame to the more favored bards,
And, calm and untroubled, endeavor to swat
The pellet for three hundred yards!

Dr. Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

THE ELECTRONIC MAN

Dr. Dinsmore Alter, of the University of Kansas, thinks that the electronic man belongs in the list of the fanciful beings of human conjecture.

The electronic man is based upon the belief that the electrons within the atoms may follow the same laws as the planets in the sky, for certainly the small asteroids follow these laws.

This gives us interesting material for conjecture.

How do we know that in every atom of our body there is a miniature world or rather universe, stars revolving around a central sun? Living beings may exist on these electrons whirling about in our thumb nail.

Time was when an atom was supposed to be the smallest conceivable thing, for the word atom means not capable of being divided.

Then came along electrons, which are supposed to be even smaller than atoms. Atoms are conceived as composed of revolving electrons. Even in hard substances, such as iron or human skin, these electrons are revolving in their various atoms.

And now comes the interesting speculation that these electrons, being miniature worlds like ours, have miniature inhabitants.

There is no reason to suppose that sentient life is confined to beings like ourselves.

Masterlink conceived of a soul in bread and in flour, etc.

Why would it not be possible in some other world for souls to inhabit flame or metal? What soul is nobody knows. With us it is certainly within the human organism, but elsewhere it may not be.

There is no limit also to speculation as to what takes place in the microscopical world. Perhaps our world, this little planet, bears the relation to the vast cosmos around us and above us that the atom in our finger bears to our whole body.

It had been announced that they are planning immediate subdivision.

CURRENT COMMENT

By CHESTER H. ROWELL

HAWAIIAN fishermen sometimes dynamite fish. Of course, they destroy many more than they catch, and the practice is highly reprehensible. So a law has been passed imposing a fine of $500 for the offense. But the Hawaiian authorities evidently understand human nature. They know that it is not enough to pass a prohibitory law and threaten drastic penalties. There are always those who will take a chance on escaping the law, and some who even find pleasure in beating it. So, in addition, they publish advertisements in Honolulu papers with pictures of fishermen who have lost one or both hands or arms, and their appeal to others not to risk a like fate. This is followed by other arguments, including, quite incidentally, the fact that the dynamiting is against the law, and that there is a high fine. The result has been a very great decrease, and almost the abolition of the practice.

MIGHT there not be a suggestion in this to our own enforcers of another law? Those who patronise bootleggers are not deterred by mere respect for law in the abstract. They have, for the most part, found plausible arguments to justify themselves for not respecting this particular law. They are not afraid of fines. These are mostly imposed on the sellers rather than on the buyers, and in some localities there is little diligence in imposing them on anybody. They are not even much frightened at the danger of poisonous booze, from the conscienceless bootleggers. Would not a few photographs and records of actual victims reach nearer to their normally sluggish imaginations?

THERE come also protests of those who are "tired" of hearing prohibition constantly harped on, and who object to its being made an issue at the coming election, even if the nomination of Al Smith precipitates it. One canot help sympathizing with their desire. The question is a bore, after everything possible has been said on it, a thousand times, and as a political issue it confuses or drives out all others. No President or even Congress, after all, could do anything about it. Why agitate, and make it an issue?

THE answer, of course, is that there is no need. There are only two things to do about prohibition. One is to accept it as an established fact. The other is to propose some practicable way to disestablish it. The drys are perfectly satisfied with the first course. If no one else raises the question, they have n ing to raise. The wets can ju their agitation only by followin second course. If they will pr something which, if the people sired it, could be done, they then the right to submit to the ple the question whether it sha done. So far, they have not this. They have made historical guments why prohibition should have been adopted in the first p and have pictured how fine a t it would be if it were now und They have not proposed one t which, if desired, could be d Until they find the answer to question they have no right to any other. HORSE SENSE FROM DEAN INGE

For several days I have been trying to prove by samples awaiting the average reader in the books of certain writers that a vast store of stimulating ideas and good counsel is he likely to pass by as being hard to read and highbrow.

Today I turn to Dean Inge, who, as a clergyman and theologian, might go unsuspected by many of the liveliness and stirring quality that marks his writings.

At random from a half dozen of his books I pick these entries:

"We cannot make a religion for others, and we ought not to let others make a religion for us. Our own religion is what life has taught us."

"There is no substitute for first-hand experience in the spiritual life."

"Faith is the resolve to live as if certain things were true, in the confident assurance that they are true, and that we shall one day find out for ourselves that they are true. The process of verification begins as soon as we begin to climb."
